

Wilderness First Responder* (WFR)

Created to provide outdoor leaders, guides, instructors and counselors with the knowledge needed to deal with crises in remote settings, WFR is an 80-hour certification course that meets all DOT national standards for First Responder with additional protocols for extended care situations. The curriculum includes protocols for patient assessment, extended care, and wilderness rescue. Like all SOLO courses, the emphasis is on prevention and decision making.

COURSE DATES:

March 15-23, 2008

COURSE FEE:

$575.00 (Gen'l Public)

$500.00 (EC Students)

Two semester-hour credit is available.
Call for tuition rates and additional credit transfer information.*

Wilderness First Aid (WFA)

The WFA is a 16-hour introduction to first aid and long-term patient care. The curriculum includes patient assessment and protocols covering a wide range of wilderness medicine topics. This course is ideal for camp counselors, trip leaders and anyone spending significant amounts of time in wilderness setting. The course may be used as a WFR refresher for the holders of current WFR cards from SOLO, WMA, or WMI.

COURSE DATES:

March 15-16, 2006

COURSE FEE:

$175 (Gen'l Public)

$150 (EC Students)

SOLO is a leading school for the teaching of wilderness and emergency medicine. The Earlham College Wilderness Program is nationally known for developing outstanding outdoor leaders. Both programs emphasize a cooperative approach to learning.
